The 10 Best Beyblade Stadiums

CONSUMER REPORTS

Texas BeyBlade League (TBBL) Director, Spencer Manns explains that in order for a game to become a sport, it requires (1) organized, systemized rules of play with an authority to enforce them. (2) Standardized (official) objects tailored to the sport, like a golf club, football, or Formula One race car. (3) A platform in which to engage the sport’s activity, thus the Beystadium/Arena. TBBL boasts the largest active collection of Beystadiums in North America, from our first set of Cyber Dragon stadiums in 2005, to our present day featured, Pro Stadium.

“Beyblades are more than just a collectible. They’re more than just a toy. Beyblades are miniature marvels of engineering that take on a life of their own as they spin into intense combat with whirling opponents. They have a dedicated community of followers massing on digital battling apps, world tournament streams, and YouTube unboxing videos. Whether you’re a beginner looking to start a collection of Beyblades and need a great stadium for your battles, or you’ve been a decades-long, die-hard devotee of battling tops, and you’re looking for the latest in stadium designs, this list of today’s top choices in the best Beyblade stadiums is the place to begin.”

This quote is from an on-line article, The 10 Best Beyblade Stadiums, by Coleen Figner, published January 1st on Screenrant.com. Data collected in the aftermath of Christmas holiday sales prompted several online sites to access the best of Beyblade stadiums and Arenas.

NEW SEASONAL FORMAT: Season of the Leviathan

This season's focus is on becoming the most ELITE beyblader you can be. The first part of these tournaments will be a qualifier round where competitors will bey battle in 1v1 matches to achieve the most wins inside a 3-4 person round robin group pool. Pool survival matches will be played if there is a tie for the top scorer. The blader with the most wins from each group advances to the second part of the tournament, which will be 1v1 Single Elimination, where the most Elite Bladers rise to the top.
